Hrach Khachatryan studied law at the University of Greifswald, specialising in medical law. He then completed his legal clerkship in the Hanseatic city of Rostock.

During his legal traineeship at one of the largest notary's offices in Mecklenburg-Vorpommern, Hrach Khachatryan gained and deepened his expertise in contract drafting - particularly in the area of land and property law.

From 2022, Hrach Khachatryan worked as a lawyer in a law firm specialising in construction and architectural law in Rostock. Since 2024, Hrach Khachatryan has strengthened the team of Leinemann Partner Rechtsanwälte at the Berlin office in the area of private construction and real estate law.
